DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Claim 1 only mentioned an amplifier in the preamble and described functional characteristic of the amplifier is not enabling since it only claimed one means (amplifier) to have all of the characteristics. According to MPEP 2164.08(a), a single means claim which covered every conceivable means for achieving the stated purpose (functions and characteristics) was held nonenabling for the scope of the claim because the specification disclosed at most only those means known to the inventor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Luo (US 6,486,739).

5. With respect to claim 3, Luo discloses an amplifier (Fig. 1; the rest of the preamble is not limiting because the claim body describe a structurally complete invention such that deletion of the preamble phrase does not affect the structure of the claimed invention, see MPEP 2111.02) comprising: an emitter grounded amplifier circuit (Q1) comprising: a first bipolar transistor (Q1) has a base terminal to which an input matching circuit (C1, Col. 2 line 38-39) and a cathode of a first diode (base emitter junction of Q3 is used as a first diode) for supplying a bias voltage are connected through a first impedance element (R1) which does not block direct current, and said first diode (base emitter junction of Q3) has an anode which is connected to a reference power supply (base voltage of Q3) which presents a sufficiently low impedance (because of C2) at high frequencies.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 2, 4-6, 21-34 are allowed.
